

In Comes the Countryside

A delightful, sensory, bedside, performance, bringing the sights and sounds of the countryside
to children in hospital

'That was beautiful, I feel calm & uplifted' Parent

Interactive, dance, live music, puppetry & sensory play

³⁴'In Comes the Countryside' is a 10-minute magical adventure for children and their families in hospital. Two performers bring the sights, sounds, and magic of the countryside to life through live music, movement, puppetry, and sensory play, creating joyful moments at the bedside.

Children can fly a kite, make autumn leaves dance in the breeze, and watch a caterpillar's enchanting transformation, all from the comfort of their hospital bed. Every moment is designed to spark imagination, curiosity, and joy.

Created in partnership with University Hospital Coventry alongside children and families on the wards, the experience is fully inclusive, with careful adaptations to ensure every child can engage. Infection prevention and control measures are embedded throughout, ensuring a safe and enjoyable experience for everyone.
